

Exceptional Private Health Care

The MeltingPott Healthcare Services ensures individuals can live their lives to the fullest, no matter their situation. Our commitment is to the care of others, and we achieve this by providing reliable private health care in Milton, ON, to those who are unable to care for themselves. We take satisfaction in knowing our clients have everything they need. Our staff has the experience and knowledge to provide in-home care and long-term care to our aging population. We understand that what our clients need most are love, experience, and compassion.

We encourage our clients to call and schedule a home visit to create a private health care plan. This session establishes a framework of assistance that will allow us to provide peace of mind for the family and exceptional care for the individual. When we know all of our clients are cared for, we sleep well at night.

An Understanding, Professional Staff

Our team of healthcare professionals is kind, compassionate, and loving, and they understand the importance of their work. We supply trained individuals who have a passion for the care of others, and we only hire people who demonstrate respect and dedication to the job. All of our caregivers are certified in CPR, trained as food handlers, and skilled in housekeeping. Every one of our devoted staff can boast extensive credentials, including diplomas, certifications, and registrations.

Compassionate Home Care

If you find yourself or a loved one homebound due to an illness or surgery, or if you need assistance for any reason, we are on your side. Our home care in Milton, ON, is designed to assist and simplify the life of each of our clients. We serve clients throughout the Province of Ontario. The MeltingPott Healthcare Services offers reliable home care support that ensures your independence is maintained. We can provide help with meal preparation, bathing, getting dressed, and medication management. We value your privacy, and your dignity is our utmost responsibility.

Daily Living Assistance

When you need to get out of the house for a while, we can get you moving. One of our trusted professionals is always ready to make sure you have what you need. We offer daily living assistance that not only includes standard day-to-day household chores; we also provide errand services if you need to get a haircut, go to therapy, visit the doctor, or just need a day out and a cup of coffee in the park.

You can contact us anytime because care for others does not have regular hours. Reach out to us 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Never worry — we're always here.

Personalized Hospital Care

No one likes to stay in the hospital. There's not a lot to do, strangers surround you, and you're often in discomfort or pain. Let The MeltingPott Healthcare Services become part of your daily routine and something for you to look forward to. We offer in-hospital visits that assist in your care and can improve your outlook when staying at the facility.

Our hospital care in Milton, ON, provides a range of services that can provide relief for you while working in tandem with the hospital staff. We are skilled at managing medications, providing meal preparation, performing bathing services, assisting with getting dressed, and, most importantly, companionship. Talk to us about personal hospital care when you or a loved one needs reliable support. We will assist in any way possible.

Our phone lines are open 24/7 for anyone who needs assistance. Caring for others cannot be put on a schedule, and we are committed to you any time, day or night.

Understanding Long-Term Care

Your loved one has settled into the nursing home, and you want to be sure they get the individual care they need. Give The MeltingPott Healthcare Services a call to discuss long-term care in Milton, ON. We can assist with a variety of needs, including bathing, feeding, meal preparation, medication management, and dressing. We help with mobility so our seniors can stay active, and where appropriate, get some fresh air. You never have to worry, and we always keep concerned family members informed of progress and the local nursing home news.

Considerate Companionship

It can be difficult to leave all you know and move to a new place. Some elderly patients have a hard time adjusting to long-term senior care. Our reliable and compassionate assistance lets them know they are important and that their needs are always the utmost in our minds. We support our elderly patients, so they feel secure, and our companionship is a sincere helping hand. We provide engaging and interactive activities and spend hours developing relationships with all of our seniors. Trust The MeltingPott Healthcare Services to care for your loved one as one of our own.

Our door is always open. We provide care 24/7, and you never have to worry about your family member. Talk to us today about our services for you or someone you love.

About Our Owner

Our owner, Amoi, was motivated to dedicate her life to health care when she saw too many people not receiving the aid they required. She now devotes her time to ensuring her staff receives training to the highest standards. Her clients are cared for precisely as Amoi would want for her own family.

Amoi started as a Personal Support Worker (PSW) 25 years ago. When she suffered injuries in a car accident, she was no longer able to provide personal care. She decided to start a health care company so she could train individuals who would then dedicate themselves to assisting others. The MeltingPott Healthcare Services has grown to become a premium private health care service in the area.

Our services are available any time, day or night. Talk to us about what you need, and we will schedule a time to create a care management routine.
